PRIVACY POLICY

Version: January 2022.

Our Privacy Policy explains:

- ☐ What information we collect and why we collect it.
- ☐ How we use this information.

We are a company that develops systems for automation and management of quality control laboratories and service providers.

Your privacy is very important to us, the protection of your privacy and the processing of your personal data are taken care of with special attention by our company, so being a user, please take the time to learn about our practices.

The personal data collected during visits to our website are processed by us in accordance with the valid legal determinations of the General Data Protection Law - Law No. 13,709/2018.

We refer to the company through the use of terms such as "site," "we," "our," "us," words such as "you," "your," and similar expressions refer to our customers, or users of our site. By visiting and enjoying the website, you automatically accept the conditions described below, which make up the Privacy Policy.

INFORMATION WE COLLECT

Important: You are not required to provide information to our website. However, without providing certain information when requested, you will not be allowed access to some features. We collect information to provide better services to all our users and it occurs as follows:

1. Collection of Personal Information

We may collect personally identifiable information, such as first name, last name, email address, and phone number, exclusively for business contact and only with the consent of the person providing us with the data. Such data may be stored and in this way, in accordance with article 7, item VIII of Law 12.965/2014 (Civil Rights Framework for the Internet), we may send messages and contact our customers.

2. Use of your personal information

Whenever you access and use our service platform, ALLIMS will receive and will automatically store information, including your IP address and cookie information. ALLIMS will disclose your personal information, without notice, only in the event of:

- a) applicable law, regulation, legal process, or governmental request;
- b) to comply with the investigation of possible violations;
- c) fraud or security; or
- d) protect against harm to the rights, property, or safety of ALLIMS, our users, or the public as required or permitted by law.

All information relating to the Holder will remain securely in the possession of ALLIMS.

3. Sharing Information with Third Parties

ALLIMS will not pass on, rent or sell your personal data. We will not share your personal information with other companies, except with your express authorization or in the event of a court order. We are not responsible for how third parties collect, use, protect, or disclose the information you may provide to them.

4. Safety

We have physical, electronic and administrative security measures in place to protect personal data and your information. These protection measures help us prevent fraud and unauthorized access to information, as well as maintain data integrity. In addition, we have an Internal Security Policy for ALLIMS employees to process your personal information, so that your data remains insecure at all times.

5. Users' rights

All the rights listed below can be exercised at any time through the e-mail channel: dpo@allims.com.br.

Access. The user may request information about what data is stored and for what purpose.

Rectification. The user may request the correction/updating of any of their personal data, as it is their responsibility to keep them up to date at all times.

Elimination. The user may request the deletion of their personal data in the following situations: (i) when they are not necessary for the purpose for which they are used, (ii) when they are no longer consenting to the terms set forth herein.

6. Changes to this Statement

In the event of modification of these terms, in order to better serve your customers, we will post such changes to the privacy policy and notify you of this situation. We will also keep previous versions of this Privacy Policy on file for you to compare.

7. Data storage period

Your data will be stored by ALLIMS for the time necessary to perform the requested services or until you request their deletion.

8. Assent

By submitting your personal data on our platform, you will be consenting to access your personal data for the purpose of registration and contact.

9. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

Any and all disputes arising from the terms set forth in this Privacy Policy will be resolved in accordance with Brazilian Law, with the jurisdiction of the city of Campinas-SP, to the exclusion of any other, however privileged it may be.

COOKIES POLICY

Version: January 2022.

Our Cookie Policy features:

- ☐ Cookie Summary ☐ What are Cookies?
- ☐ Types and Purposes Cookies.
- ☐ How to manage Cookies?

Summary:

Cookies are small files that are stored on the hard drive of your computer or mobile device and are intended to facilitate navigation to the website, where we can identify, for example, if your device has already been connected to our websites, or which language or other settings you prefer. Cookies may also contain personal data.

By using our websites, the user must confirm their acceptance of the use of cookies. However, the user may visit our website without accepting the use of cookies, and may also delete cookies through the settings of their device.

We use cookies and other identification technologies on our websites and app to enable you to have more efficient, enjoyable, personalized, and secure navigation.

The cookies present on our website have several purposes, such as:

- I- remember user preferences and settings;
- II- determine the popularity of a piece of content;
- III- to broadcast and measure the effectiveness of advertising campaigns;
- IV- analyze website traffic and trends; and
- V- Generally understand the behaviors and interests of the people who interact with our services.

Our website uses cookies and similar software tools, such as HTML5 storage or Local Shared Objects (together cookies), to identify your interests and the most popular areas of our web pages and, with this information, improve our web pages and make them even more user-friendly.

1. About this Policy

This Cookies Policy aims to inform you, in a clear and accessible way, about the types, reason and way we use cookies on the website, as well as to demonstrate their importance to provide the best possible experience to you.

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that websites, applications, digital media, and advertisements store in your browser or device to recognize them on future visits, helping to personalize your access and provide a better experience.

Cookies have an expiration date. They can last for a session, i.e. they can be automatically removed when you close your browser or at the end of your session, or they can be stored on your device until they expire or you manually clear them.

3. Types and Purposes of Cookies used:

Essential cookies: these cookies are necessary for our website and application to function, allowing you to browse and use their functionalities, enabling minimum resources to provide the services you request. These cookies do not collect and do not store information about you. This category of cookies cannot be disabled, as without them we cannot provide the services or products you request from us.

Analytics cookies: These cookies allow us to analyze how our services, products, and communications are being accessed and used, as well as whether they are working properly. With this information we are able to maintain, operate and continuously improve our services.

Marketing cookies: These cookies help us to provide more relevant and personalized advertisements to you, as well as to limit the number of times an advertisement appears to you, based on your preferences and how you interact with our marketing communications. The marketing cookie also collects personal information such as your name, which pages you visit on our website, your purchase history on our app and/or website, and the like.

4. How to Manage Cookies?

You have the right to choose whether you want to accept cookies or not. However, they are an important part of how our services work. Therefore, please be aware that the refusal or deletion of cookies may affect the availability and functionality of the services and products we offer you on our website.

For you to personalize your preferences for marketing cookies and analytics cookies, we provide the cookie consent tool. The tool will record when you consent to our cookie policy and ask for your consent again annually to ensure you stay up to date with changes to our privacy and cookie policies. But remember, essential cookies cannot be disabled.

Many of the cookies used on our website and through emails can be enabled or disabled through your browser. To disable cookies in your browser, follow the instructions normally located in the "Help", "Tools" or "Edit" menus in your browser (essential cookies cannot be disabled). This instruction may be different for each device.

5. General Provisions

The terms of this Policy may be modified at any time, due to legislative changes, as a result of updating technological tools or at our discretion, such as due to the offer of new services.

Therefore, we recommend our customers to always check the current Cookie Policy. If the changes are significant, we will notify you and we will give you the opportunity to review the new version of the Policy before deciding to continue using our services. This includes email and pop-up notification when you are accessing the Application or Website.

Your information will always be processed in accordance with this Policy. We will never reduce your rights set out in this Policy without your explicit consent and in violation of Data Protection Law.

Any clause or condition of this Policy that, for any reason, may be deemed null or ineffective by any court or tribunal, will not affect the validity of the other provisions of this Policy, which will remain fully valid and binding, generating effects to the maximum extent.

This Policy is governed exclusively by the Laws of the Federative Republic of Brazil, as well as any actions arising from violation of these Terms.

For a complete navigation on our website, as well as the use of our services, we suggest the acceptance of the terms and conditions set out herein. If you do not agree with our Cookies policy, we recommend that you do not browse or use our websites and services, as failure to accept the terms may prevent the perfect provision of our services.

Any questions about our Policies can be addressed with our Personal Data Protection Officer: at dpo@allims.solutions.

6. Law Applicable and Resolution from Conflicts
Any and all disputes arising from the terms set forth in this Privacy Policy will be resolved in accordance with Brazilian Law, with the jurisdiction of the city of Campinas-SP, to the exclusion of any other, however privileged it may be.

The use of services or orders commanded outside the Brazilian territory, as the case may be, or even those arising from operations initiated abroad may also be subject to the legislation and jurisdiction of the authorities of the countries where they are commanded or initiated.
